MULTICULTURAL
BANKING CENTER
at HarborOne

Promoting financial independence through education.

Financial education for our community.

As a long-time member of the community, HarborOne is reaching out to help our neighbors improve their understanding of personal finance. Through the MultiCultural Banking Center, residents can learn about borrowing, saving, and more through education and assistance.

The MultiCultural Banking Center is located at 68 Legion Parkway in Brockton, with formal classrooms and meeting space, a computer lab and a resource library. Several local non-profit agencies will also occupy the Center to offer programs in addition to the financial classes offered by HarborOne. The Legion Parkway branch is located on the first floor, with a bilingual staff that can provide personalized service.

The Center is one of the country's first facilities dedicated to assisting low- and moderate-income residents, minorities and immigrants, the groups targeted most often by sub-prime lenders, costly payday lenders and expensive check-cashing services.

Teaching financial literacy.

As a long-term initiative, the MultiCultural Banking Center provides a wide range of courses to meet the needs of the community. The knowledge gained will help protect residents from making costly, unwise financial decisions. Courses will be taught in other languages, and topics include:

- Basics of personal finance
- Credit counseling
- Home ownership
- Foreclosure prevention
- English as a Second Language
- Computer basics in our lab
- Citizenship test preparation

Additional benefits to completing courses.

In addition to gaining a solid foundation for personal financial success, there are additional benefits for completing courses at the MultiCultural Banking Center. You may have the opportunity to open a HarborOne checking account, receive a line of credit, or other specialized loans and financial services.
